ROAD TRIP USA

ON THE ROAD

Doodle pictures on the road signs, to show the hazards that the car may encounter on its journey.

Doodle
more spikes on the cacti.

FALLING LEAVES

It's Autumn, and the leaves are falling. Can you find two that are exactly the same?

AT THE DRIVE-IN

Five things don't belong in this old Western movie scene. Spot them and draw circles around them.

CITY SKYSCRAPER

You can only get to the top of this towering skyscraper by moving through rooms with a light on. You can go straight up and down, and right and left, but not diagonally. Can you find your way up?

DID YOU KNOW?

The USA is made up of fifty different states. Each one is represented by a star on the American flag.

Campfire cooking

When the flames of a campfire have died down and the logs are glowing with heat, that's the best time to cook some campfire food.

You will need:

- ☆ heavy-duty cooking foil
- ☆ a knife and spoon
- ☆ metal tongs
- ☆ oven gloves or mitts

! Even small fires can be extremely dangerous. Make sure you read the safety information on page 39 before making one.

! Always wear an oven glove or mitt when handling hot food and only ever take things in and out of the fire using tongs.

The logs should be covered in white ash, and glowing red.

All the flames should have died down.

The red part of the fire is called the embers.

Marshmallow cookie sandwich

Ingredients

- ☆ marshmallows
- ☆ cookies
- ☆ skewers

1. Push a marshmallow onto the end of a skewer. Hold it above the fire for around 15 seconds, slowly turning it around.

2. Place the hot marshmallow, still on its skewer, on a cookie. Put another cookie on top and press them together. Then, pull out the skewer.

Fire-baked potato

Ingredients

- ☆ a large potato
- ☆ butter or spread

1. Use a knife to slice the potato in half. Put a spoonful of butter or spread between the two halves and press them back together.

2. Wrap the potato halves tightly in foil. Using gloves and tongs, gently push the potato into the embers.

3. Leave it to cook for 20 minutes. Then, use tongs to turn it over. After another 20 minutes, take it out.

4. Wearing an oven glove or mitt, squeeze the potato. If it feels soft it's ready to eat. If not, put it back in until it's done.

5. Leave the potato to cool for 10 minutes. Unwrap it and eat straight from the foil. You could add some grated cheese too.

Corn on the cob

Ingredients

- ☆ corn on the cob still in its husk (with its leaves on)
- ☆ butter or spread

1. Soak the corn in water for an hour.

2. Wrap the corn and its husk tightly in foil. Wearing gloves and using tongs, push it into the embers.

3. After 20-25 minutes, use tongs to take the corn out of the fire. Leave it to cool for ten minutes.

4. Carefully unwrap the foil and take off the leaves. Spread a teaspoon of butter or spread over the kernels and eat straight away.

! When you've finished with your fire, always put it out with water or sand. Take all your litter and equipment away with you.

Setting up camp

When choosing the perfect camping spot there are important things to consider.

Pitching a tent

Putting up a tent is called pitching. Look around and try to find the best spot before you pitch your tent.

Making a campfire

Fires are essential for keeping campers warm and provide a place to cook a hearty meal. Always get permission before building a fire and look for designated areas that allow it.

You will need:

- ☆ kindling (see step 1)
- ☆ sticks
- ☆ logs

! An adult must do this:

! Campfire safety

Fires can be very dangerous. Read these safety tips carefully.

FIND OUTDOORSY WORDS

There are at least 45 words to do with the outdoors hidden in this leaf-shaped grid. Make words by joining together letters that are next to each other. You can use the letters more than once and move in any direction.

Write a list of the words you spot before checking the answer pages at the back of the book.

When you look closely at some types of leaves, you might see lots of thin lines that make a pattern similar to this grid. They're tiny veins, which carry food and water – and support the leaf like a skeleton.

I can see my name in the grid!
